What's Magdala All About?

It's About People

One-to-one coaching is given to people who are passionate about singing, regardless of ability, age, or financial circumstances. For some, the experience may be the springboard to a singing career, for others the simple joy of discovering their voice and for all who take part, the opportunity to grow in confidence and ambition

"It's a terrific place to grow"

Geoff Bullen, Director, RADA

It's About Striving for the Best

The Magdala Chorus offers people from all backgrounds the experience of making music together and working hard to achieve the highest possible musical standards. A year-round programme of concerts in small local venues ensures close ties with the community while high profile performances win acclaim from national critics and music lovers alike.

"Top marks for tuning, rhythmic precision.... and sheer verve of delivery"

Opera magazine

It's About Transforming Lives

Opera Start is a school-based programme that engages young people from the most deprived communities in challenging and creative projects. Chorus members and professional musicians work with teachers and pupils to build self-belief through performance and raise levels of aspiration.

"The whole of Magdala has arisen out of the idea that people, if they put their mind to it, can achieve something they didn't think was possible".
